CHURCH OF CHRIST

As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men—Galatians 6:10

GOD SAID (Part 4)

FRANKLIN CAMP

THE BASIS OF FAITH

“So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God” (Rom. 10:17).

Faith must rest upon testimony—upon what “God said.” This is the reason Paul declared that what he presented to the Corinthians was the testimony of God (1 Cor. 2:1). He wanted their faith to rest upon the only thing that can establish and sustain faith—that is, what “God said.” This truth needs to be re-emphasized in our day, when there are those who want to tell tales and give experiences and various other things as a substitute for the testimony of God. It is time we get back to the Book, which is the only thing that can produce faith, and the obedience of faith (Rom. 1:5) is the only thing acceptable unto God. Also, the strength of one’s faith depends upon the credibility of the testimony. One’s faith can be no stronger than the credibility of the testimony upon which it rests. The spiritual weakness of so many today is due to the fact they have allowed the babblings of men to affect their faith in the credibility of testimony. It is my conviction that this weakness of faith is one of the main problems we face in this generation. We must re-establish the credibility of the testimony, the Scriptures, what God has said, in order for faith to be strong.~
